Various accounts against the city were allowed.

The Council then adjourned to meet Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock.

SNOOZER.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union meets every Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Chapel of the Christian Church.

Mr. A. Arthur Rowle sent circulars to a large number of literary men, asking about their habits with respect to the use of alcohol, tobacco, etc., while engaged in literary work. He says that no one of the 162 who replied to his questions resort to alcohol for inspiration. Thirty-four abstained wholly from its use.

A writer in the Chicago Tribune, in speaking of the statement made by a member of Congress, that whisky is a raw material, and therefore should not be taxed, speaks as follows: "Whisky is raw material. What do we manufacture from it but criminals, drunkards and paupers? Raw material! And where are the finished products stored? In the almshouses, jails, penitentiaries, and on the gallows!"

A young man who had resisted all the entreaties of friends and of the spirit, was led by the restoration of the following poem by a little girl at a temperance meeting, to sober repentant thought and action, and so to a Christian life.

I will paint you a sign, rum-seller,
And hang it over your door,
A truer and better a sign-board,
Than ever you saw before,
I will paint with the skill of a master,
And many shall pause to see
This wonderful piece of painting
So like the reality.

I will paint yourself, rum seller,
As you wait for the fair young boy,
Dressed in the morning of manhood,
A mother's pride and joy.
He has no thought of stopping,
But you greet him with a smile,
And you seem so blithe and friendly
That he pauses to chat awhile.

I will paint you a sign, rum-seller,
I will paint you as you stand,
With a foaming glass of liquor
Extended in your hand;
He wavers but you urge him,
Drink, pledge me this once,
And he takes the glass and drains it,
And the hellish work is done.

And next I will paint a drunkard,
Only a year has flown,
And into that loathsome creature
The fair young boy has grown.
The work was sure and rapid,
And I'll paint him as he lies
In a torpid, drunken slumber
Under the wintry skies.

I will paint the form of another,
As she kneels by her darling's side,
Her beautiful boy that was dearer
Than all the world beside.

I will paint the shade of a coffin
Labeled with one word, Lost!
I will paint all this, rum seller,
And paint it free of cost.

The sin and the shame and the sorrow,
The crime and the want and the woe
That is born there in your workshop
No hand can paint, you know,
But I'll paint you a sign, rum-seller,
And many will pause to view
This wonderful swinging sign-board
So terribly, fearfully true.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 21, 1885.

Rev. G. F. Bagby still continues the meeting at the Baptist Church. The interest has been steadily increasing, and the Church has been filled nightly with large congregations. So far there have been thirty-five additions to the Church. The meetings will be continued during next week.

A team attached to a two-horse wagon ran away, on the Versailles pike, near Col. John L. Scott's residence, yesterday afternoon, and ran over two little boys who were walking along the pike. One of them, a son of Mr. Epler, the toll-gate keeper, is thought to be fatally injured, while the other, a son of Mr. Henry Crutcher, is seriously though not dangerously hurt.

The entertainment given by the ladies of Forks of Elkhorn Baptist Church at the residence of Mr. C. T. Freeman, on Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the students fund of the Church, was a perfect success. Although the weather was unpropitious, the attendance was large and the receipts amounted to about eighty dollars.

As we are publishing a local paper, and always endeavor to insert matter which is of interest more particularly to the people of this city and county, our columns are always open to those who desire to discuss matters of local interest, provided they do not wish to monopolize too much of our space, but we wish it distinctly understood that we do not assume any responsibility for the views or utterances of our correspondents.

The Louisville Commercial, having fought a splendid fight and secured the closing up of the gambling dens in that city, is now carrying the war into Africa by urging the grand jury to pile up indictments against the gamblers and the owners of the property in which they operated so high as to prevent their attempting to open up again. All honor to that independent paper. May it be equally as successful in the last as in the first undertaking.

A little son of Hon. Isaac T. West, a bright little fellow three years old, was given a silver quarter of a dollar to play with, several days ago, by Dr. E. E. Hume, and put it in his mouth. While at play he swallowed the money and it became fastened in his throat, causing him great pain. The local physicians were consulted and the child was taken to Louisville to Dr. Vandell, but all said the coin was too far down to reach with instruments and they would not attempt to remove it. The little sufferer is some better at present but has fallen off very much and it is feared that he will not last long.

Frank Noel, a young man of about thirty years of age, while standing in Walker's billiard saloon, on Ann street, Wednesday night, suddenly caught hold of a table and tried to steady himself, but sank to the floor and died almost instantly.

The body was taken up and carried to the undertaking establishment of Messrs. Whitesides & McEwan, where a post mortem examination was held and the heart of the unfortunate young man found to be badly diseased. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from rupture of an aneurism of the Aorta.

He was a painter by trade and well known in the city, the tenor drummer of the brass band and one of the best players in the Capital Base Ball Club for several seasons, and had been signed as one of the players in the club for this year.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of his uncle, Mr. Eliza Merchant, and was largely attended. The procession was headed by the Frankfort Cornet Band, of which he had been a member, and the drum which he had beaten so often and so well was draped in black, surmounted by a beautiful harp of flowers, and borne by two members of the band just in front of the hearse.

And they saw through a glass darkly that the face of the sun was being obscured.

Many persons looked through a glass Monday who are not often guilty of such conduct.

Another precinct has been heard from and another candidate for jailer has come to the front.

Mr. A. W. Overton will shortly erect a frame residence upon his lot on second street.

Judge Lewis W. McKee, of Lawrenceburg, is spoken of as a candidate for the Senate from this District.

The fruit trees and grape vines in this locality have been injured but little by the cold weather of the past winter.

There are nearly enough candidates for jailer to make up two base-ball nines, and it would not be a bad idea for them to have a game, the losing nine to pull off the track and leave the other fellows to fight it out among themselves.

The young ladies of the First Presbyterian Church will give a candy pulling at the residence of Miss Sallie Jackson, in South Frankfort, Thursday, March 20th, 1885, at seven o'clock. Everybody invited.

Gen. Thos. H. Harris, the genial and jolly Assistant Secretary of State under Governor Blackburn, will be a member of the next Legislature from Oldham county, having been nominated for the position on Monday by the Democrats of that county.

Rev. Geo. Darst, who has been conducting a meeting at the Walnut Street Christian Church, Louisville, for the past two weeks, returned home Wednesday night very ill with fever; it better but unable to fill his pulpit to-morrow.

The partial eclipse of the sun Monday morning was visible here from about half past eleven until about half past one, about one third of the face of the sun being obscured. Smoked glass was in demand and groups of citizens collected on the streets to watch the progress of the moon's shadow.

The manager of Capital B. B. C. received a letter Wednesday inviting him to attend a base ball convention to be held next week at Columbus, Ohio, for the purpose of forming an Inter-State Base Ball League, to be composed of 8 or 10 clubs, most of them in Ohio, one in Pennsylvania, one at Covington one at Lexington and the Capital Club of this city. The Capital Club will very probably send a delegate over, and should be concluded to put the club in, our citizens will have plenty of amusement this summer, as the national game will then be exemplified at the new base ball park on Holmes street on an average of twice a week during the season, and all of them first class games at that.

Grace Hawthorne is a sensational Camille. Her make-up, tragic attitudes and stride, and business with up-turned eyes, is like Sarah Bernhardt, and then, again, she reminds one strongly of Clara Morris, in her emotional, tender, and colloquial scenes. The house was packed to overflowing, and Miss Hawthorne certainly was a great surprise to all who saw her acting. She actually galvanized the sand a Camille. She gave it new life. Miss Hawthorne knows every card in the play of acting, and she takes every trick. She is indeed a great actress.—New Orleans Picayune.

At the Opera House Wednesday, March 25th.

Attention is called to Mr. Jno. T. Buckley's advertisement in to-day's issue. In view of the new water works to be finished this season Mr. Buckley has enlarged his shop, taking the third floor of his building, where he has plenty of light and room, and where Mr. A. W. Caldwell, who has proven himself master of his business, has arranged to keep up with all the plumbing and gas fitting entrusted to this house. Mr. Buckley will himself take charge of all outside work, and Mr. Bud Parker has charge of the hooks, with Monte in the store. We know of no house in the city better prepared to keep up with the business entrusted to it than this. Give them a call.

With the mercury standing about fifteen for the last three or four mornings, one would think the blue birds and robins were a little previous in their visit.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 21, 1885.
It is a long time between tides in the river this season.

Mr. Thos. E. Dalley is announced in another column as a candidate for alder.

Mr. R. H. Nicol has begun delivering tea every morning in all parts of the city. Read his card in another column.

Fifty convicts were sent from the Penitentiary to Eddyville Tuesday afternoon to work on the new Penitentiary at that place.

Mr. Cesar Shubinski, formerly of this city, but now of Lexington, has accepted the agency for the American Mutual Aid Insurance Society, of Louisville, and has been in the city for several days representing that organization.

Mr. Jos. R. Fears, of Scott county, was granted a license to practice law by the Judges of the Court of Appeals, on Tuesday, the 17th. Mr. Fears taught school in this county for several years, and received instruction in his legal studies from Col. Thos. B. Ford during that time.

"Caprice" at the N. Y. Theatre.
The season at the New Park Theatre was opened last night with Mr. Howard P. Taylor's comedy drama "Caprice". The pretty but uneducated daughter of an Adirondack mountain farmer, is married off hand by Jack Henderson, a young artist, who is discarded by his family. After five months of married life in a cottage he becomes discontented, and says in his wife's hearing that he is tired of her ignorance. She leaves him, goes to the seminary at which his sister studies, and four years later is his sister's guest at his father's house. Jack, who still loves his wife, but thinks that she is dead, meets her there, and all ends happily. The piece is filled with interesting incidents.
The part of Mercy is taken by Miss Minnie Madden, who played in Abbey's Park Theatre two years ago. She was called before the curtain at the end of each act. When she appeared the last time the audience rose and cheered her. Mr. Taylor was also called out and made a short speech.—N. Y. Sun

If our Peak's Mill correspondent, who signs himself "Quicker," will send his real name to this office his communication may be published, but otherwise it cannot.

She presented one of the best Camilles seen here in many a day. Her articulation is crisp and clean, her "business" full and judicious, and her make-up and dress all that could be desired. The audience grew genuinely enthusiastic over the strong portraiture of Miss Hawthorne's, which is far warmer and even more sympathetic than Modjeska's.—Chicago Times.

Seed potatoes 75 cts. per bushel at Mastin Bros.

Editor Roundabout:

DEAR SIR: One more word as to the new jail in answer to Mr. Bohanan, who seems to represent the Court of Claims, and I am done. The grand jury will bear me out that I, in the remarks made before them, said that if it was necessary to build a new jail it would incur additional taxation, and that this would affect me perhaps as much as any member of the grand jury or other citizen of the county, but that I was willing to stand it. Now I do not doubt that the members of the Court of Claims are a sensible body of men, thoroughly competent to decide as to whether the present jail is sufficient or not (though remarkably slow in coming to such conclusion), but there are some of us who doubt their ability to manage the finances of the county. They are presumed to be a lawful body and would not do an unlawful act. Yet it is a matter of record that at their meeting in November last, they did pass an order pledging their constituents to pay eight per cent interest on the bonds of the county. Woodford county had her Court House bonds negotiated for 5 per cent, but the Franklin county magistrates must stop two per cent beyond the legal interest in order to negotiate Franklin county bonds. Now as to Mr. Bohanan's delicacy in advertising himself as one of the board of magistrates. Let this act of the Court do a little for him. The acts of the Court of Claims are public property, and subject to criticism by any citizen of the county. As to the political axe I will say I have neither one of a political or private character to grind. I am no policy man, but stand boldly for what is right though the heavens fall.

PIANOS AND ORGANS!---EASY TERMS!

In buying a Piano or Organ many persons have the idea that they must pay all cash. There are thousands of families who have an income of fifty to one hundred dollars per month, who can easily spare from five to ten dollars of it and scarcely miss it. To all such we would say, do not wait to lay up enough to pay for an instrument before buying, but see or write us at once for our terms. We will satisfy you that we are giving easier terms than any Music House in the United States.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Con. McCarty went to Anderson county Monday and arrested Jim Kellis, colored, who is charged with being one of the gang of whisky thieves. Jim is an old offender, having served one or two terms in the Penitentiary, but left here some time since saying he was going to try and lead an honest life. He was released on bond to appear at the June term of the U. S. Court.

Antioch.

Smoked glass was at a premium last Monday.

Mr. J. W. Semones is on the sick list this week.

There will be preaching at Antioch to-morrow at 11 A. M.

Miss Kate Semones, of Frankfort, is visiting Mrs. H. T. Smith.

Mr. R. H. Shannon, of Lebanon Ridge, was in the neighborhood last week.

Mr. Dock Arnold, of Frankfort, paid Henry Spalding a flying visit last Sunday.

Mr. John Cornelius, of the Roundabout office, was out last Sunday, the guest of T. D. Halle.

Wanted.—A few more candidates for jailer, for terms apply at the Roundabout office.

The report that Mr. James Gore had sold out is not true; his place is still on the market.

If wood wagons are as numerous on all the other places as they are on the F. & F. C. Frankfort need not fear a wood famine.

The peach market has been rather dull for the past two weeks. Come back, Bud, and give it a boom.

Died.—March 17th, "Old Fan," the family horse of Butler Gore.

Old Fan is dead, that good old mare, No more she'll feed the good, She always kept her tracks fair, While Charley pulled the load.

Mr. James Rossel swapped a horse, sold one and bought another all in less than a week. Dick says he can make more money trading horses here than he can by farming in the mountains, and says he will stay here. So trot out your horses, boys.

We learn that there are several school districts in this county that will have to build new school houses this year, and it is time the people were discussing the ways and means for doing so. We propose that every candidate for office, instead of buying whisky and giving it away, give the money toward building school houses. We could insure that man's election that would do so.

Benson.

Misses Kennedy and Culhan, of Frankfort, visited Miss Lizzie Ryan last week.

The sale of Mr. Oliver Travis took place on the 14th inst., that of Mrs. Ryan on the 18th.

Mr. O. B. McAndrews has moved to the Farmdale neighborhood, where he will crop with Mr. Averill.

The rain has interfered with the farmers, checking their energetic spirit which was just developing after being so long dormant.

Messrs. J. and E. Wade have rented a farm in Shelby county and have removed hence. Their sister, Miss Mildred, accompanied them to take charge of the house.

Misses Bettie Richardson and Linda Triplett, of Frankfort, and Rev. ———, of Lawrenceburg Circuit, spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week with the family of Mr. J. C. McChesney.

Mr. W. D. McChesney has a sheep that last July became perfectly blind and remained in this condition for four months, when the sight was restored. This is truly applicable to it, "Once I was blind but now I see."

Already the smoke has been seen curling from vale to hill top in the great brush and log heaps used in the preparation of tobacco beds. I wonder if by climbing to one of the hill tops around here we can see this year as many yards of canvass as we did last.

Messrs. Huette, Conway, W. D. & S. E. McChesney spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in Louisville. These gentlemen reported tobacco very low, and vast quantities on the market. Folk says "they let not talk about tobacco, for it makes me feel bad." The low prices of this weed will nearly ruin men who rented land, paying high prices for it.

Servants at North Benson Church first Saturday and Sunday in each month by Rev. ——— Burton, pastor. All are invited. Sunday school will be organized at this church on the first Sunday in April. Parents come and bring your children; don't send them and your stay at home, or go visiting. A place will be found for you to fill as well as them.

Cancers Conquered.

The Swift Specific Company have the most undubitable evidence as to the cure of Cancer by their famous medicine, S. S. S. Among others, John S. Morrow, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Florence, Ala., makes the following statement as to the merits of this remedy: "I have been suffering with a cancer in my right ear, for about three years. I tried various remedies and was treated with iodine of Potash, which produced rheumatism. My feet and legs were greatly swollen, so that I could not walk. About one year ago I was induced to try Swift's Specific, which soon removed the trouble in my limbs, and my rheumatism is now entirely gone and my Cancer is steadily improving, being better now than at any time within the past two years. This medicine has done me more good than anything else I have taken, and I feel that I am on the road to a speedy cure. Undoubtedly Swift's Specific is the best blood purifier in the world."

JOHN S. MORROW, Florence, Ala., Sept. 22, '84.

I have had a cancer on my face for many years. I have tried a great many remedies, but without relief. I almost gave up hope of ever being cured. Dr. Hardman, my son, recommended Swift's Specific, which I have taken with great results. My face is almost well, and it is impossible for me to express my thanks in words for what this medicine has done for me.

MRS. OLIVER HARDMAN, Monroe, Ga., Sept. 2, 1884. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

An Editor's Tribute.

Theron P. Keator, Editor of Ft. Wayne Ind., "Gazette," writes: "For the past five years have always used Dr. King's New Discovery, for coughs of most severe character, as well as for cases of milder type. It never fails to effect a speedy cure. My friends to whom I have recommended it speak of it in some high terms. Having been cured by it every cough I have had for five years, I consider it the only reliable and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, etc." Call at Joe McCombs' Drug Store and get a Free Trial Bottle.
